REPORT OF THE AUDITOR FOR THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS,

BUREAU OF AUDITS,

Manila, P. I., December 1, 1905.

SIRS: In compliance with the requirements of rule 38 of Act No. 90 of the Philippine Commission (sec. 60 of Act No. 1402), I have the honor to submit my fifth annual report of the fiscal concerns of the Government for the fiscal year 1905, showing the receipts and disbursements of the various Departments and Bureaus of the Insular Government, and of the various provinces, together with other pertinent information.

The report embraces all transactions of the fiscal year which were included in accounts received to November 1, 1905, and also settlements pertaining to prior fiscal years which were not included in previous annual reports.

During the entire fiscal year 1905 the responsible management of the Bureau of Audits devolved by law upon Messrs. W. W. Barre and Wm. H. Clarke, as Acting Auditor and Acting Deputy Auditor, respectively, by reason of the absence of the Auditor, first on accrued leave of absence and later under a special assignment as chairman of the Philippine Exposition Board, and the work was conscientiously and ably performed.

The organization of the office and the personnel of the executive staff at the close of the fiscal year were as follows:

Auditor—A. L. LAWSHE.

Deputy Auditor—WM. W. BARRE.

Chief Clerk—WM. H. CLARKE.

Bookkeeping Division—C. H. FULLAWAY, Chief.

Customs Division—A. J. GIBSON, Chief.

Postal Division—WM. A. WALSH, Chief.

Miscellaneous Division—C. H. FRENCH, Chief.

Provincial Division—H. W. GANGNUSS, Chief.

Property Division—C. A. SMITH, Chief.

During the fiscal year two chiefs of division, W. Y. Handy and O. H. Tibbott, resigned, to return to the Federal service at Washington, after having rendered most efficient and valuable service to the Insular Government.

Messrs. Handy and Tibbott were succeeded, respectively, by C. H. Fullaway and H. W. Gangnuss, their experienced and efficient assistants.

By reason of absence on accrued leave during a portion of the fiscal year the duties of chief of the miscellaneous division devolved upon the assistant chief, J. F. Hauck, and those of the chief of the customs division devolved upon F. W. Thornton and Ora Miller, the work in each instance being efficiently performed.

Although several resignations, transfers, and absences on accrued leave occurred during the fiscal year in all divisions, the volume of work accomplished was equal to that of any prior year. This result is due to the faithful, conscientious service of the remaining employees, many of whom worked overtime to maintain the standard.

The authorized personnel at the close of the fiscal year was as follows:

Auditor; Deputy Auditor; three clerks, class 3; four clerks, class 4; one clerk, class 5; nine clerks, class 6; ten clerks, class 7; eleven clerks, class 8; fourteen clerks, class 9; six clerks, class 10; four clerks, Class A; two clerks, Class B; two clerks, Class C; three clerks, Class D; three Class E; two clerks, Class F; two clerks, Class G; two clerks, Class H; two clerks, Class I; four messengers; and for employment of emergency clerks at not to exceed $100 per month each, not to exceed ₧7,333.33.

The expense of conducting the Bureau for the fiscal year was, for salaries and wages of officers and employees, ₧210,275.24, and for contingent expenses, such as furniture, stationery, printing, and other supplies, ₧10,049.88. In addition there were outstanding obligations at the close of the fiscal year for salaries and wages amounting to ₧6,498.33, and for contingent expenses, ₧446.33, making an aggregate ultimate cost for the service of the fiscal year of ₧227,269.78.

There were received, examined, and settled 15,359 separate accounts, as follows:

Customs revenue.....	294
Customs disbursement.....	384
Customs refund.....	883
Miscellaneous.....	5,540
Postal and money order.....	3,822
Property.....	2,394
Special accounts and settlements.....	451
Provincial-municipal.....	1,591

In addition, 569 settlement warrants were issued from the Insular salary and expense fund.

The monthly and quarterly accounts received weighed in the aggregate 14,000 pounds, or an average of less than 15 ounces each. The customs accounts, included in the above total, aggregated in weight 3,150 pounds, and 80 per cent of this amount consisted of manifests, entries, etc., prepared by shipping agents and importers, and required by law to be sent to the Collector of Customs and the Auditor.

While some provincial and customs accounts are very large, it will be seen that the paper work of the great majority of the accounts must be small to reduce the average weight of each account and its accompanying vouchers to less than 15 ounces.

VOLUME OF THE AUDIT.

The volume of the auditing work done is in no sense restricted by the aggregate of the ordinary or extraordinary receipts and disbursements of the Government. In addition to the ramifications and manipulations of the various funds, which must be followed, aggregating many times the original funds received, the accounts of the postal money-order service and of the Insular Treasurer as depositary, including the silver-certificate redemption fund, must each receive careful audit, from invoices, checks, drafts, money orders, and other evidences of debit and credit.

The audit of these depositary and other special classes of accounts, while simple compared with the audit of receipts and disbursements under established legislation, is certainly as comprehensive as the audit usually given to commercial accounts, which, as a rule, consists of a mere checking of approved items and a compilation of results.

Another series of accounts which may well be taken into consideration is that involving the exchanges of currency. These exchanges must receive as rigid an audit as to ratios, etc., as any other class of receipts or expenditures, and in many cases the transactions are numerous and involve minor amounts.

The stamp accounts of various officers must receive the same careful check as is given to money accounts because the stamps have a fixed money value in the hands of the holder.

On this basis the volume of the audit performed by the various divisions during the fiscal year 1905 was as follows:

THE BOOKKEEPING DIVISION.

Under the provisions of the organic act creating the office of the Insular Auditor, this division is charged with maintaining a complete and permanent record of all the financial affairs of the Government and making report thereon.

In my report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1904, an elaborate detailed description was given of the various books employed in the system of double-entry bookkeeping inaugurated at the beginning of that fiscal year. This system, modified and added to in several instances to meet conditions arising, is still in force. In this report only a general presentation of the scheme will be given.

The law requires that all revenues of the Insular Government, aside from postal revenues, shall be deposited without deduction with the Insular Treasurer, and that all withdrawals shall be made by warrant on the same officer. It logically follows that such transactions are the basis of the Government's fiscal affairs and the scheme of bookkeeping has accordingly been so constructed.

The system may be divided, for purpose of illustration, into two general sections:

First. Actual Treasury transactions, embracing receipts duly classified as customs, postal, internal-revenue, and miscellaneous revenues, and withdrawals classified by the respective Bureaus and Offices having control of the appropriations.

Second. Transactions forming the basis of statistical information, and duly segregated, by means of general ledger accounts, into items of income or expense, and resources and liabilities.

The data in the first section are necessary for primary information as to the standing of the Government in its visible cash balance and the divisions thereof. For example, all cash receipts at the Treasury are debited to an account of that name and credited to an account entitled "Available for appropriation;" when an appropriation is made by the legislative body the available account is debited and the appropriation account credited under the specific subheading; when a withdrawal is made the appropriation account is debited and the withdrawal account credited. It is evident, therefore, that the respective balances on available and appropriation accounts and the sum of withdrawals will equal the sum of the Treasury receipts. This is an absolute guaranty as to the accuracy of the work.

The entries forming the statistical feature of the bookkeeping are made in using the Treasury receipts and withdrawals as a base for the audit of the year. For illustration: A, in his capacity as a collector of customs, receives a certain sum of money. He deposits the same in the Insular Treasury. The Treasury prepares receipts in duplicate and sends them to the Auditor for counter signature. The duplicate part of this receipt is forwarded to the customs officer, the original entered in the statistical ledger and the amount thereof charged to the Insular Treasurer at once. It is then forwarded to the auditing division for use in verifying the customs officer's accounts. The duplicate part of the receipt is sent to the customs officer as his voucher. Instead of entering an immediate credit to the collecting officer, however, the amount is credited to a suspense account known as "deposits." The auditing division receives the account-current of the customs officer making the collection, verifies all data in connection therewith, prepares a certificate of settlement on the account and forwards it to the bookkeeping division. This certificate is entered in the following manner: The officer is first charged with all sums received by him and credited with amounts paid out or deposited with the Insular Treasurer; the difference or balance due Government remains to the debit of his individual account and constitutes an asset of the Government; the sum of the deposits made by him is then debited to the deposit account and the various items of revenues credited to their respective classified accounts in detail.

The same method applies to certificates on the accounts of disbursing officers.

The accuracy of the year's work is then determined by two absolute proofs: First, when the suspense entries are balanced, and, second, when the aggregate of debit and credit statistical entries equal like sums.

The double-entry system is an innovation in Government accounting and was adopted with some misgivings, but the experience of the past two years proves conclusively that if the integrity of the classifications is maintained it is an absolute presentation of facts and positive proof of the work accomplished.

While the duties of Government auditors are more or less defined by specific legislation, all authorities agree that they are the proper officers to adjudicate the acts of collecting and disbursing officers in accordance with law, both original and constructive, without interfering with the administrative functions of the officers concerned, to the end that the financial interests of the Government may be protected. In the Philippine system the Auditor is specially empowered with the functions of a comptroller of the treasury, in some cases with final jurisdiction and in others subject only to review by the Secretary of War. It logically follows, therefore, that the results from the exercise of such functions, either in the form of certificates of settlement on the accounts of collecting and disbursing officers prepared and certified by the Auditor after mathematical and legal review of accounts submitted, or in the recording of the financial enactments of the legislative body, should be centralized and form the proper basis for fiscal information.

No matter how much bookkeeping may be done by the Treasurer or by other officers collecting and disbursing funds, the Auditor can do no less bookkeeping than now and at the same time present a true statement of the Government's financial condition.

There seems to be some misapprehension on the part of Bureau chiefs and others as to the extent of the bookkeeping performed in this office. The work accomplished is confined to maintaining a proper check on Treasury receipts and withdrawals, the proper segregation of funds available for appropriation and those appropriated for specific purposes, and entering the aggregated elements of settlements of officers' accounts as made by auditing divisions, based upon the primary Treasury receipts and withdrawals as later explained in detail. These certificates of settlement may cover an officer's accountability for one month or the entire fiscal year, and only the aggregate collections and disbursements for the period covered are entered in the statistical accounts; in the former as to classification of revenue, either customs, postal, internal, or miscellaneous, and in the latter according to the subheading of appropriation acts authorizing the expenditure. The transactions in detail are not entered on the books, although as a separate proposition detailed statements of expenditures are made in the auditing divisions for the War Department's records at Washington. The keeping of the accounts in detail is properly the work of the administrative officers in their Bureaus. More bookkeepers are employed, respectively, as such, in the various divisions of the Manila custom-house, in the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, and in any of the other large Bureaus, in making entries of their transactions in detail, than are employed in this office in making the aggregated entries for the whole Philippine service, Insular and provincial, including the city of Manila.

The Accounting Act, recently passed, has authorized several long-needed changes in the work of this division. Chief among these is the abolishment of fiscal-year restrictions in appropriation and advance of public funds, leaving the date of expenditure to fix the statistical fiscal year. It thereby becomes unnecessary to eliminate small appropriation balances. This, together with adjustments between fiscal-year appropriations, has constituted a large proportion of the detailed work of this division.

Not far short of this in its importance is the adoption of the "charge back" system in the audit of accounts. Payments made in good faith and mathematically correct are allowed in expenditures. If a quasi-legal examination reveals any question on which more information is desired the amount is charged back to the officer in suspense, subject to his explanation within a given period. If the matter is not satisfactorily explained, the amount of the sum so held in suspense is entered as an absolute charge against the officer and classified statistically so as to reduce the expenditure charge originally made. It will readily be seen that the revenues and expenditures of the Government are more speedily and accurately shown by this method, while the elements of safety and correctness do not suffer by the new departure.

Commercial and governmental bookkeeping, while fundamentally alike, are radically different in their application in that certain essential elements of each are surplusage in the other; for example, in commercial bookkeeping it is necessary to show the transaction incident to the purchase, barter, and sale of commodities, and the value of merchandise remaining on hand is of paramount importance. In Governmental work this is not essential. Aside from expenditures for salaries the purchases of Government Bureaus are usually confined to immediate or apparent needs for accomplishment of the work assigned to that Bureau, and individual accountability for such purchase of a nonexpendable character is properly assigned to a property division in the administrative office or in the Auditor's office. It follows that such purchases should be classified statistically as concluded expenditures and have no place in a balance sheet as Government assets.

On the other hand, governmental sources of revenue are confined in the main to taxation, customs imposts, sale of or percentage on franchises, etc., and these factors are absent in a mercantile business. Further, the merchant employs his funds or assets without the necessity of recording his intentions, while in governmental bookkeeping it is necessary to so treat receipts and withdrawals that the legislative body may know what funds are available to be set aside or appropriated for specific purposes, and that the identity of such funds, after appropriation, may be preserved until finally withdrawn and expended, or returned to available funds if not required.

Under the new Accounting Act the Auditor is expected to prescribe the system of detail bookkeeping to be followed by the various Bureaus and Offices, in addition to prescribing the form and manner in which accounts shall be rendered for purposes of audit. The two propositions are radically different. Even the most experienced accountant and bookkeeper would be exceedingly wary about prescribing a system of bookkeeping for any enterprise without first having had opportunity to acquaint himself thoroughly with the peculiarities and intricacies of the business in order to meet them in the best way. It would require days, and possibly weeks, of actual experience in some of the Bureaus having large and varied transactions to formulate and prescribe the best internal system for them. No expert force was provided for this work in the appropriation act, and the amount of work which may be done in this line in the near future is, in consequence, necessarily limited.

The Auditor will endeavor to assist the bookkeepers regularly employed in the various Bureaus in formulating correct and satisfactory systems, when called upon to do so or when occasion makes such action desirable or necessary.

¹Gross collections here stated include refundable receipts, and do not include such receipts which remain unclaimed and finally accrue to revenue, nor customs collections in the United States to the credit of the Philippine Treasury. Mexican-currency collections included in this table were converted at ratios authorized on dates of collection, whereas the uniform ratio of 1.30 to 1, which prevailed when Mexican currency ceased to be received for public dues, was employed in the abulations elsewhere in this report.

On March 8, 1902, the Congress of the United States passed a law to the effect that—

(a) All Philippine products shipped direct to the United States, entered free of duty and consumed therein, shall be free of Philippine export duty;

(b) All duties and taxes collected in the United States upon articles and foreign vessels coming from the Philippines shall be deposited to the credit of the Philippine Treasury.

From the date of the enactment of that law to June 30, 1905, the receipts from this source were as follows:

Export duties collected in the Philippines subject to refund.

Period.	Philippine currency.	Mexican currency.
Mar. 8, 1902, to June 30, 1903
July 1, 1903, to June 30, 1904	P664,993.46	Pfs. 657,602.91
July 1, 1904, to June 30, 1905	802,412.29	113,898.86
	973,402.06
	2,440,807.81	771,501.77

Converting total Mexican currency to Philippine currency at 1.15 to 1, the above totals equal P3,111,678.91.

The dues and taxes collected in the United States for deposit to the credit of the Philippine Treasury were as follows:

March 8, 1902, to June 30, 1903	$212,723.99
July 1, 1903, to June 30, 1904	549,161.81
July 1, 1904, ¹ to June 30, 1905	534,364.21
Total	1,296,250.01

Converting the total United States currency to Philippine currency at 1 for 2, the above total equals P2,592,500.02.

Total collections in Philippines subject to refund	P3,111,678.91
Total collections in United States for credit of Philippine Treasury	2,592,500.02
Difference	519,178.89

It is obvious, therefore, that the effect of the act of March 8, 1902, has been in favor of the United States. The past fiscal year, however, shows the receipts in the United States to be in excess of the amount of refundable export duties collected in the Philippines.

The amounts refunded as "excess collections" may be segregated as follows:

Refunds due to decisions of the Insular Collector on appeal:

Errors of classification	P11,461.58
Errors of appraisal	689.72
Clerical errors	2,120.31

¹$13,905.43 net undeposited June 30.

The chief of the customs division while on leave in the United States during September, 1904, informally invited the attention of the United States Treasury Department to the fact that no deposit had been made by the United States Government to the credit of the Philippine Treasury on account of "Fines, penalties, and forfeitures" collected on Philippine products and foreign vessels from the Philippines, and thereafter such deposits have been regularly made.

The act of March 8, 1902, provides that all collections on account of both duties and taxes collected in the United States upon articles coming from the Philippine Archipelago shall be held as a separate fund and paid into the Treasury of the Philippine Islands; but thus far the law has been construed to embrace only duties arising in the customs service, although it seems quite clear that the law was intended to cover all internal revenue collected in the United States on cigars and cigarettes imported from the Philippine Islands and on tobacco imported from the Philippine Islands and manufactured in the United States, as well as on all other articles imported from the Philippine Islands; the proceeds from the sale of all articles from the Philippines seized by customs officers of the United States; all moneys collected in the United States under the provisions of an act of Congress dated August 2, 1882, entitled "The passenger act," from foreign vessels arriving from the Philippine Islands, and all moneys collected in the United States under the provisions of an act of Congress dated August 3, 1882, entitled "An act to regulate immigration," from foreign vessels arriving from the Philippines.

The Auditor will take up this question, through the War Department, with the proper accounting officers of the United States Treasury with a view to recovering for the Philippine Treasury the amounts which seem to be due on account of taxes collected as stated.

THE ARRASTRE PLANT.

Arrastre plants are owned and operated by the customs service at the ports of Manila and Jolo. Merchandise is discharged from lighters by means of steam cranes and conveyed to customs warehouses by tramway cars. A fee is collected from the importer for this service of the arrastre. The plants are self-sustaining, as will appear from the following audited statement of receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year 1905:

THE POSTAL DIVISION.

In this division are settled the postal accounts of all postmasters in the Philippine Islands, the money-order accounts of postmasters at money-order post-offices, the general money-order account with the United States Government, the postage-stamp account of the Bureau of Posts, and the accounts of the disbursing officer for the Bureau of Posts and for the Fortin building.

In the postal ledgers there is kept a personal account with each postmaster in his dual capacity of collecting and disbursing officer, which account also covers his stamp accountability. Separate ledgers are kept for money-order accounts.

Numerous applications for duplicates of money orders lost, stolen, or accidentally destroyed before payment, referred by the Director of Posts to the Auditor for certification, are verified by reference to the money-order records and files. Applications for settlement warrants in lieu of orders remaining unpaid more than one year after the last day of the month of issue are likewise verified and settlements stated. There are now on file in this division approximately 270,000 money orders, aggregating more than $12,000,000, issued since July 1, 1901, the date of the separation of the Philippine money-order system from that of the United States.

It is pleasing to note that there are fewer delinquencies than formerly on the part of postmasters in regard to the prompt rendition of accounts. The improvement is largely due to the active coöperation of the Director of Posts. Act No. 1191, providing for quarterly instead of monthly postal accounts, effective as of July 1, 1904, has simplified the settlement of postal accounts.

At the close of the fiscal year there were 417 post-offices, of which number 62 were authorized to transact money-order business.

The postal receipts, as shown by the accounts of the different offices, were ₱273,341.60, and the expenditures were ₱345,080.77, these expenditures being solely for the post-office service as distinguished from the expenses of the Bureau of Posts.

The value of money orders issued was $3,444,053.48. The value of money orders paid in the Philippines was $1,784,820.54, and the value of those paid in the United States was $1,794,888.53.

Elsewhere in this report under a separate subtitle appears a statement of the money-order transactions of the Bureau of Posts, and a statement of the general account between the Philippine Government and the United States.

THE MISCELLANEOUS DIVISION.

This division has heretofore audited and settled all revenue and disbursing accounts excepting those pertaining to the customs, postal, and provincial services.

These accounts cover disbursements on account of the following Bureaus in addition to miscellaneous appropriations not embodied in the regular appropriation acts, as well as collections from all sources made by the said Bureaus:

Philippine Commission, Executive Bureau, Civil Service Board, Insular Purchasing Agent, Bureau of Health, Quarantine Service, Bureau of Mining, Weather Bureau, Bureau of Public Lands, Bureau of Agriculture, Bureau of Ethnological Survey, Bureau of Government Laboratories, Bureau of the Philippine Civil Hospital, The Civil Sanitarium, Signal Service, Bureau of Philippines Constabulary, Bureau of Prisons, Bureau of Coast and Geodetic Survey, Bureau of Engineering, Bureau of the Insular Treasury, Bureau of the Insular Auditor, Bureau of Justice, Bureau of Education, Bureau of Printing, Bureau of Archives, Bureau of Architecture, the American Circulating Library, Official Gazette, education of Filipino students in the United States, custodian of the Santa Potenciana building, superintendent of the Intendencia building, superintendent of the Oriente building, Philippine Exposition Board, and the city of Manila.

On account of the ramifications of the work of this division and the wide range of appropriations covered, it is impracticable to comment upon each particular phase. The many laws and amendments affecting the various accounts and the constant changes resulting from current legislation require that each examiner must be an experienced accountant and thoroughly familiar with all legislative measures of the Philippine Commission.

A résumé of the work accomplished during the fiscal year 1905 shows that 5,540 monthly accounts were audited and certified, and that in addition thereto 451 certificates covering special settlements were executed.

On account of the provisions of Act No. 619 and the many other legislative measures affecting the finances of the Bureau, the accounts of the Philippines Constabulary present many intricate features. The audit of the accounts received from forty or more disbursing officers of this Bureau form no small proportion of the work of this division, since each supply officer renders from three to five monthly accounts. The correctness of the special-fund accounts created by Act No. 619 can be determined only by a careful audit of all disbursing accounts involved. The system of commissary accountability prescribed for this Bureau is practically the same as that in vogue in the United States Army.

Another account deserving of special mention is that rendered by the Insular disbursing agent at Washington. The disbursements therein contained are reported in lump sum and the audit of this account requires the exercise of careful judgment in the segregation and distribution of the various items of expense to the Bureaus concerned.

THE PROVINCIAL DIVISION.

This division has heretofore been charged with the audit and settlement of the provincial-municipal, internal-revenue-forestry, and internal-revenue-ordinary accounts of the forty-five provincial treasurers, which include the five district treasurers of Moro Province, the internal-revenue-forestry and internal-revenue-ordinary collection accounts of the city assessor and collector of the city of Manila, the accounts of the disbursing officer of the Forestry Bureau and Internal Revenue Bureau, and the internal-revenue stamp accounts of the Collector of Internal Revenue and the Insular Treasurer, and the cattle registration-stamp accounts.

During the past year monthly property returns of Congressional relief fund rice have also been received in this division from a number of provinces and examined in connection with the provincial-municipal accounts of provincial treasurers. Under the provisions of Executive Order No. 64, series of 1903, the money value of rice sold or exchanged for services and the expenditure thereof was taken up and accounted for in the provincial-municipal accounts.

In addition to the above this division received monthly reports from municipal treasurers of their cash transactions, monthly reports of the committees designated under the provisions of Acts Nos. 752 and 1233 to count the cash of provincial treasurers, and monthly deposit and trust-fund accounts of provincial treasurers and statements of their accounts with municipalities. These reports are examined and checked in connection with the settlement of the provincial-municipal accounts.

The number of accounts settled and certified for the fiscal year 1905 were as follows:

Provincial-municipal	681
Internal Revenue:
Forestry	322
Ordinary, Act No. 1189	492
Miscellaneous revenues and disbursing accounts	96
Total	1,591

The accounting act, enacted October 10, 1905, provides for a corps of district auditors whose duty it will be to receive, audit, and settle accounts pertaining to provincial funds. The operation of this new auditing system for provincial accounts will be extended to the various provinces as rapidly as the field examinations can be brought to a current date. The complete establishment of the system is to be accomplished not later than June 30, 1906.

The provincial work heretofore performed by this division will hereafter be done by a new provincial division in charge of the chief district auditor, and hereafter the old provincial division will become the internal-revenue division, and have, in addition, analogous work pertaining to other branches of the service.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

Act No. 1189, Philippine Commission, providing for the collection of internal-revenue taxes, went into operation on August 1, 1904, and taxes became due and were collected from and after that date on matches, cigars, cigarettes, manufactured tobacco, fermented liquors, and distilled spirits.

The following taxes became due and were collected on and after January 1, 1905: Documentary stamp tax, poll or cedula tax, certain license taxes, and taxes on banks and bankers, insurance companies, forestry products, mining concessions granted prior to April 11, 1899, and a tax on business, manufacture, and occupation.

The industrial, cedula, and stamp taxes, formerly collected as joint provincial and municipal revenues, ceased to be collectible after December 31, 1904, and the tax on forestry products, which had formerly been collected as an Insular revenue and the proceeds thereof, after deducting the expenses of the Forestry Bureau, distributed pro rata among the provinces, to be divided equally between the province and the municipalities thereof, became, on and after January 1, 1905, an internal-revenue tax under Act No. 1189.

The internal-revenue taxes assessed and collected by virtue of this act are distributed as follows:

(1) To municipalities in which collected: License taxes on theaters, museums, cockpits, concert halls, pawnbrokers, circuses, and billiard rooms.

(2) To provinces and municipalities jointly: The poll or cedula tax, except in the case of the Moro Province, where the entire collection from the cedula tax accrues, without division, to the province.

(3) The collections from all other internal-revenue taxes are deposited in the Insular Treasury. Of this amount 75 per cent accrues to the Insular Government and is deposited as Insular revenue, and 25 per cent is deposited as refundable internal revenue and returned to the provinces, 10 per cent to be used for general provincial purposes and 15 per cent to be returned to the municipalities, of which latter sum one-third is devoted to municipal school purposes and the balance to general municipal purposes, except in the Moro Province, where the entire 25 per cent is devoted to general provincial purposes.

The refunds to the provinces and municipalities and to the city of Manila, which, for this purpose, is considered both as a province and as a municipality, are made quarterly by settlement warrant upon the basis of their respective populations according to the census of 1903.

Internal-revenue collections for the fiscal year 1905, and distribution of the proceeds, as provided by law and as above outlined, were as follows:

The figures contained in this report will not agree with those given by the Collector of Internal Revenue for the reason that the report of the latter is based upon reports from the various municipal treasurers throughout the Archipelago, showing the collections made during ten-day periods, while the figures in this report are based upon the monthly accounts-current of the several provincial treasurers, as audited. For the purpose of showing the amount of internal-revenue collections, the Collector of Internal Revenue keeps two abstracts of collections, one temporary and the other permanent. All of the ten-day reports from municipal treasurers received in the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue during any ten-day period are entered in the temporary abstract regardless of the period covered by the report received from any municipal treasurer, and the total is given as the collection for that period. The ten-day reports are later entered in the permanent abstract under the province, municipality, and particular ten-day period to which they pertain. Owing to the remoteness of many municipalities and the difficulty of communication with others, there is considerable delay in receiving the reports from all municipalities for any particular ten-day period. The Internal Revenue Bureau's permanent abstract for any fiscal year may not be complete until eight or ten months after its close.

For the collection of internal revenue a municipal treasurer is merely a deputy of the provincial treasurer, and is visited at regular intervals by the provincial treasurer or his traveling deputy, who checks his accounts and takes up his collections, which are turned into the provincial treasury. The settlements of the Auditor are based upon the monthly accounts rendered by the provincial treasurer, who is the accountable officer. It frequently happens, in the case of remote municipalities, that collections made by the municipal treasurer are not taken up by the traveling deputy, and do not appear in the monthly account-current of the provincial treasurer until several weeks, or even months, after the ten-day period during which the collections were made by the municipal deputy. It is obvious, therefore, that any figures given by the Collector of Internal Revenue, whether based upon the temporary or permanent abstract, may not agree with the figures contained in the Auditor's report. The reports of the Collector of Internal Revenue may be regarded as anticipatory with reference to final deposits of available funds in the Treasury.

INTERNAL-REVENUE STAMP ACCOUNT.

During the first half of the fiscal year, from July 1 to December 31, 1904, stamp taxes continued to be collected under the provisions of certain royal decrees and orders of the former Spanish government and General Orders, No. 57, military governor's office, dated March 31, 1900.

In accordance with section 18, Act No. 83, as amended by Act No. 133, all collections from this source in organized provinces became a joint provincial-municipal revenue. These stamps were furnished by the Acting Collector of Internal Revenue for the Islands to the various provincial treasurers, through the Insular Treasurer.

The Internal Revenue Law of 1904 provided for the repeal of the existing stamp taxes on and after January 1, 1905, and the substitution therefor of new taxes on documents, cigars, cigarettes, distilled spirits, fermented liquors, manufactured tobacco, matches, banks and bankers, insurance companies, forestry products, Spanish mining concessions, and certain occupations, all of which are collectible by means of the sale and affixture of stamps.

All of the old class of stamps that were in the hands of collecting officers were therefore called in and destroyed and new stamps issued for the collection of the taxes imposed by Act No. 1189. These new stamps consist of two series: Documentary stamps for use on documents, and internal-revenue stamps for use in the collection of all other taxes imposed by Act No. 1189, except the poll or cedula tax.

This act repealed the former cedula tax and provided that after January 1, 1905, every male inhabitant of the Philippine Islands between the ages of 18 and 60, with certain exceptions, should pay an annual tax of ₱1 by purchasing a cedula or certificate of registration, before the last Saturday in April (Class A).

Those who neglect to procure a cedula before the last Saturday in April in each year must pay ₱2 (Class B), while all persons arriving in the Islands after that date may obtain a cedula (Class D), within twenty days after landing, by paying ₱1. All persons who are exempt from the payment of this tax may obtain a certificate of exemption (Class C).

FORESTRY TAX SETTLEMENTS.

Under the provisions of Act No. 527 of the Philippine Commission, the net amount of collections on forestry products made in the provinces and the city of Manila has, since July 1, 1902, been returned pro rata to the provinces from which the products were taken after the entire expenses of conducting the Forestry Bureau and the service under its control have been deducted from the gross collections.

This law continued in force to December 31, 1904, when the forestry tax became, by Act No. 1189, a part of the new system of internal-revenue taxes, and is thereafter included in the statement of collection and refund of internal revenues.

During the period July 1 to December 31, 1904, the expenses of the Forestry Bureau, including those former expenses which had not been previously charged against the forestry collections, exceeded the collections made during the same period.

All refunds to taxpayers of erroneous collections, and so much of the expenses as equaled the collections, have therefore been charged against the collections, and the balance of the expenditures for the period July 1 to December 31, 1904, has been borne by the Insular Government.

Following is a statement of the forestry collections and refunds, by provinces, to December 31, 1904, with the pro rata of expense, as stated, all in Philippine currency.

THE PROPERTY DIVISION.

This division is charged with the settlement of property returns and all matters coming within the administrative jurisdiction of the Auditor under the requirements of Acts Nos. 215 and 909 of the Philippine Commission, which provide that every officer or agent who has public civil property in his charge shall be deemed responsible for the value thereof until relieved from such responsibility pursuant to the provisions of said acts. This division is also charged with the reviewing of all reports of inspectors or committees on condemned property, of which 343 were received and passed upon during the fiscal year.

The returns on hand July 1, 1904, numbered 552, and 2,269 were received during the fiscal year, making a total of 2,821; of these, 2,394 were examined, leaving a total of 427 remaining unaudited at the close of the fiscal year.

Pursuant to a resolution of the Philippine Commission dated March 14, 1905, Insular property was transferred to the city of Manila under the supervision of the chief of this division, of which the following is a summary, and was subsequently approved by the honorable Acting Governor-General.

PROPERTY LOSSES FROM UNAVOIDABLE CAUSES.

Mr. S. K. Fitzhugh, provincial treasurer of Tayabas, was found to be short of nonexpendable property to the value of P172.83. As the loss occurred through no fault of the officer, he was relieved from accountability by written consent of the Governor-General, as provided in rule 29 of Act No. 90.

Mr. W. W. Leggett, supervisor of Abra Province, was found short of property to the value of ₱30.60, and relieved in the same manner, as was also Lieut. L. E. McMurry, Philippines Constabulary, of property to the value of ₱198.66.

The claims hereinbefore mentioned do not include several ^{shortages} ~~claims~~ now in course of adjustment for which no claim has as yet been made.

The Philippine system of property accountability is similar to that of the War Department, it having been an inheritance from the military government of the Islands. It is a safe system, but open to the possible objection that it necessitates an undue amount of paper work.

The Auditor recommends that the system be revised so as to eliminate the requirement for periodical returns covering the fixed, nonperishable, nonexpendable property assets of the Government, by requiring them to be permanently listed in the Auditor's office and in the various Bureaus against officers responsible therefor, thus reducing reports or returns to those covering expendable property, for which special provision should be made according to the nature of the particular service concerned. A much greater latitude should be allowed in accounting for property which in the ordinary course of service legitimately expends itself in use.

REDISTRIBUTION OF DUTIES, BY DIVISIONS.

In view of the changes made by the Accounting Act a new distribution of duties for the various divisions has been made, analogous accounting or similar systems being thrown into the same division as nearly as practicable. Under this new distribution the accounts of the various Bureaus and Offices will be examined and settled by divisions as follows:

Bookkeeping division.—Treasurer's general account, Treasurer's depositary account, and continue as the general record and statistical division.

Customs division.—Bureau of Customs, Bureau of Navigation, Bureau of Port Works, Bureau of Coast and Geodetic Survey, Bureau of Printing, Bureau of Agriculture, and Weather Bureau.

Internal-revenue division.—Bureau of Internal Revenue, City of Manila, Bureau of Forestry, Bureau of Justice, and Bureau of Public Works.

Postal division.—Bureau of Posts, Signal Service, Bureau of Cold Storage, Bureau of Civil Service, and Bureau of Audits.

Miscellaneous division.—Executive Bureau, Bureau of Constabulary, Bureau of Education, Bureau of Health, Quarantine Service, Bureau of Prisons, Bureau of Science, Bureau of Lands, Bureau of the Treasury, and all miscellaneous accounts not especially enumerated.

Provincial division.—Provincial accounts, until all district auditors are installed, revision of provincial accounts, and supervision of district auditors

Property division.—Insular property accounts, Bureau of Supply, and accounts of Insular disbursing agent at Washington.

COMPARATIVE TREASURY STATEMENT, FISCAL YEARS 1899-1905.

The following is a comparative statement of deposits and withdrawals at the Insular Treasury by fiscal years from the date of American occupation, in August, 1898, to June 30, 1905, expressed in Philippine currency. The Treasurer's account for the fiscal year 1905, elsewhere stated in the currencies actually involved, is here, for the purpose of comparison, converted at the ratio of 1.30 to 1, the official ratio at the close of the fiscal year. From this statement has been excluded the sum of $455,093.49, the estimated United States currency value of seized funds in the Treasury, as a part of the Treasurer's balance until June 30, 1901, at which time the funds were taken over to a special account, and taken up later in the Treasurer's general account as the items were sold and became available.

INSULAR RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

INSULAR RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

Following is a statement, by Departments, Bureaus, and Offices, of the receipts and expenditures of the Insular Government, arranged in such form as to show the gross receipts of each Bureau having sources of receipts and revenues, the refunds of such receipts, and the net revenues, as well as the gross expenditures, the refunds to such expenditures, the net revenues, the net expenditures, the excess of revenue over expenditure or the excess of expenditure over revenue, as the case may be, in every Bureau and branch of the Insular service. Many of the Insular Bureaus have no sources of revenue whatever, but this method of stating the fiscal affairs affords a convenient means of comparing receipts and disbursements and readily ascertaining net results.

Under the laws in force during the fiscal year 1905 the Bureau of Printing and the Bureau of Government Laboratories were required to perform services for other Bureaus without charge therefor and to render to the Auditor statements of the services performed. For statistical purposes only these charges have been included as expenditures of the various Bureaus and Offices concerned, corresponding amounts being credited as revenues to the Bureau of Printing and the Bureau of Government Laboratories, respectively, in order to show the real earnings of the various Bureaus and the actual cost of their maintenance.

Revenues are shown under the particular sources from which derived, and expenditures are stated for the general purpose for which made under the digest headings shown in the appropriation acts. Salaries and wages specifically appropriated for as such are included under that general heading, and expenses for transportation of supplies and travel on official business are included under the general head of transportation when so appropriated for. Contingent expenses include those necessary expenditures in the conduct of a business or office which are not provided for under other specific headings. They include purchases of furniture, stationery, supplies, traveling expenses of officers when not otherwise provided for, cost of telegrams and cablegrams, rents, ice, etc.

All expenditures from funds derived from bond issues or from funds for public works or special purposes, and not pertaining to the administrative cost of conducting a Bureau, are excluded from the regular statement of revenues and expenditures of the Bureau concerned, as the funds from which such expenditures were made were not derived from regular sources of revenue and the expenditures therefrom being for extraordinary purposes.

STATISTICAL EARNINGS AND EXPENDITURES, AND PAYMENTS TO THE CITY OF MANILA AND TO THE PROVINCES.

Included in both net receipts and net disbursements is the sum of ₱785,133.83, the combined statistical revenues or earnings of the Bureau of Printing and the Bureau of Government Laboratories, and shown as statistical expense of the various Bureaus involved, the actual cash receipts and expenditures having been that much less, or ₱22,313,856.91 and ₱23,712,580.83, respectively, but the Auditor is required to show these items for statistical purposes. Under the law as recently amended all inter-Bureau transactions of this sort will hereafter appear as actual cash transactions, but will be statistically separated in the audit. Likewise in the expenditures, the sums of ₱1,516,731.81 paid to the city of Manila as the Insular Government contribution to the support of the city, and ₱192,429.27 paid to provinces, as a contribution to their support, appear in addition to loans advanced to provinces and revenues regularly ceded by law. Thus these actual expenditures of the Insular Government, in effect, become receipts or revenues of the city of Manila, and of the provinces, in the amounts stated.

MISCELLANEOUS RESOURCES AND LIABILITIES.

MISCELLANEOUS RESOURCES AND LIABILITIES.

In the following statements of account is shown the relation of the Insular Government to the several special funds arising from the issue of bonds for specific purposes, and to the several quasi-trust funds held pending claim for refund after the conditions of the law have been complied with.

These statements are omitted from the regular account of Insular receipts and expenditures, as they do not affect the income or expenditures of the Insular Government in any manner until covered into general funds by reason of noncompliance with the specific provisions of the law authorizing refunds within given periods.

In the case of bond issues for specific purposes the full amount of principal and premium derived from the sale is credited to the fund, and it is charged with the par value of the issue, for the reason that the Insular Government assumes the obligation and carries the same under an account of bonded indebtedness.

The cash balances on said accounts are included in the Insular Treasurer's account and in the balances in the hands of collecting and disbursing officers. For every item of revenue received on account of a special fund the liability of the Insular Government is increased, and for every expenditure there is a corresponding decrease.

THE CONGRESSIONAL RELIEF FUND.

THE CONGRESSIONAL RELIEF FUND.

By act of Congress approved March 3, 1903, the sum of $3,000,000, United States currency, was appropriated for relief of distress in the Philippine Islands, to be expended under the direction and in the discretion of the Philippine Government, in such proportions as they deem wise, in the direct purchase and distribution or sale of farm implements, farm animals, supplies and necessities of life, and through the employment of labor in the construction of Government wagon roads and other public works. The act further provides that the Governor of the Philippines shall submit to the Secretary of War a statement of all expenditures under this fund.

The sum so appropriated was transmitted to the Treasurer of the Philippine Islands and taken into the account of Insular funds as ₱6,000,000. As contemplated by the appropriating act, and for the purpose of making the reports required thereunder, the identity of the fund has been maintained and expenditures made therefrom have been segregated from the ordinary expenses of the Government.

The procedure inaugurated by the Philippine Commission as to the disposition of this fund was to set apart by means of appropriation acts specific sums for specified purposes, such as public works, etc., as well as amounts for expenditure under the direction of the Governor-General in such manner as might from time to time be authorized by resolution of the Commission.

The following statement of account shows the expenditures from the fund, as audited, during the fiscal year 1905, together with the various cash balances remaining on hand at the close of the fiscal year:

FISCAL AFFAIRS OF THE PROVINCES.

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS.

FISCAL AFFAIRS OF THE PROVINCES.

Under the provisions of Act No. 83, as amended by Act No. 133 and other acts, the revenue collected in the provinces and municipalities for local purposes is not deposited in the Insular Treasury, but is deposited with the treasurer of the province in which collected, except the internal-revenue collections, which accrue to the Insular Government, the provinces, and the municipalities, in the proportions of 75, 10, and 15 per cent, respectively. The refundable 25 per cent is deposited in the Insular Treasury as "refundable internal revenue," and subsequently refunded, as provided by law, in proportion to population as shown by the last census. That portion of revenue which accrues to each municipality is returned to the municipal treasurer and disbursed by him under direction of the municipal board, in accordance with the general provisions of the Municipal Code.

Under the provisions of the new Accounting Act the audit of the provincial accounts is being taken over by district auditors, as explained elsewhere in this report, the new system to be completely established by June 30, 1906.

Information in detail as to the internal-revenue collections and refunds therefrom to provinces will be found elsewhere in this report, on pages 19 and 20.

THE MONEY-ORDER SYSTEM.

THE MONEY-ORDER SYSTEM.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND POLICE, BUREAU OF POSTS.

The money-order system of the Philippine Islands, operated by the Bureau of Posts, is analogous to that of the United States in all of its details.

Money orders issued in the United States and paid in the Philippine Islands are charged to the United States. Orders issued in the Philippines and paid in the United States are charged to the Philippines. Under this reciprocal arrangement paid orders are respectively transmitted as remittances to the country in which issued.

The only revenue which accrues from the money-order system is the net amount of fees received, after all losses have been deducted therefrom.

An analysis of the money-order statement shows there were balances in the hands of postmasters June 30, 1904, amounting to $786,104.02, and there was due from former postmasters at that date $2,615.90, and due to former postmasters the sum of $36.18. During the fiscal year 84,420 money orders were issued for the aggregate sum of $3,444,053.48, upon which fees were received amounting to $14,572.14.

The number of orders paid during the fiscal year was 43,748, aggregating $1,784,820.54. There was remitted to the United States for credit of the Philippine money-order system, on account of money orders of Philippine issue paid in the United States, the sum of $1,700,000. There was transferred to postal funds $15,023.23, and $5,136.41 was deposited in the Insular Treasury on account of invalid money orders, for the credit of a permanent appropriation from which money orders remaining unpaid more than one year from the last day of the month of issue are payable.

There were balances in the hands of postmasters on June 30, 1905, aggregating $739,937.45, which sum includes the balances in the hands of the postmaster at Manila as the designated depository of money-order funds. There was due from former postmasters June 30, 1905, $2,427.91, while balances due former postmasters that date aggregated $36.18.

Appended is a tabulated statement of the money-order transactions during the fiscal year at each of the various money-order offices in the Islands and a statement of the general account with the United States.

The account is stated entirely in United States currency, all transactions of the money-order system being so expressed.

Statement of the money-order business of the post-offices in the Philippine Islands, fiscal year 1905.

REVISION OF THE ACCOUNTING SYSTEM.

The original accounting system in the Philippines was installed by the Army while actually engaged in military operations. The system was necessarily crude, and intended only to meet temporarily the conditions as they arose. Later it became necessary to adopt and install a stable system. This was authorized in an executive order issued by President McKinley, February 21, 1901, and under it certain rules and regulations were issued by the Secretary of War, all of which were incorporated into a statute of the Philippine Commission and became known as Act No. 90.

The system thus defined was in reality the result of practical experience in Porto Rico and Cuba. It met the conditions in the Philippines most admirably, but no accounting system mapped out 11,000 miles from the scene of its operation could be expected to be perfect in all of its details. Desirable amendments were made from time to time, and a complete revision has now been made as the result of recommendations of the Auditor, acting with a committee appointed by the Governor-General.

A system of accounting which satisfactorily met unusual conditions in Porto Rico and Cuba, as well as the hard and unusual conditions which prevailed in the Philippine Islands through a period during which two currencies, with a frequently fluctuating ratio, were employed, could not be condemned and cast aside, and it was not with this spirit or purpose that the revision was undertaken. The real purpose was to incorporate into law those things which experience had shown to be desirable and to cast out those which had been found to be unnecessary or undesirable. The act became effective October 20, 1905, but, as to the method of audit, was made retroactive from the beginning of the present fiscal year.

The important changes brought about by the new Philippine Accounting Act (No. 1402 of the Philippine Commission) are as follows:

(1) The European method of audit is authorized, and under it statistical results may be stated much earlier than under the old method.

Under the European method of treatment the account is audited in all of its elements except as to the vouchers, which are temporarily accepted at their face value. The accounts go to the books on this basis and show immediately two results for disbursement and revenue accounts, respectively, (a) the actual disbursements and (b) the reported collections. The vouchers are then taken up in detail and given the same audit as under the old system, and all items not then allowed are suspended or "charged back" against the officer. If he succeeds in satisfying the demands of the audit so as to remove the charges, the book entries remain the same. If he does not so succeed, the disallowed disbursements are debited to him as refunds of expenditures, and the same net result as under the old system is reached. Collections not taken up are likewise charged in revenue accounts.

(2) All collections subject to refund, such as joint Insular and provincial collections, refundable export duties, etc., will be divided before deposit.

In other words, the general revenues from which appropriations are to be made will not be inflated by amounts to be subsequently refunded.

Heretofore the Auditor has not been able to state definitely the amount in the Treasury actually available for appropriation. This was not due to any fault of the accounting system, but was due to legislation which provided that revenues belonging in part to the Insular Government and in part to the provinces, or refundable for some other purpose, should be deposited in the Treasury without deduction or segregation, it being provided that the refunds should be made at a subsequent date, when all of the facts upon which they are based have been ascertained. There have been many propositions of this kind. The most recent one is the Internal Revenue Law. This law in its original form provided that all the internal revenue collected throughout the Islands should be deposited in the Insular Treasury without segregation or deduction, and that at the close of each quarter the Auditor should refund to each province, pro rata according to population as shown by the last census, 25 per cent of the gross collections.

The amount of refund due any province could not be determined until after the complete settlement of the accounts of each quarter had been made and the distribution determined. This condition has been overcome in sections 79, 80, and 81 of the new Accounting Act. Under this legislation practically all money deposited in the Treasury and subject to refund will be segregated in advance, and the general fund available for appropriation will be stated separately. All future statements as to funds available for appropriation will therefore be net.

(3) The rendition and settlement of accounts by fiscal years has been abolished, and for statistical purposes the date of payment will control. General appropriations are made available until expended.

Heretofore in the Philippines, as now in the United States, accounts have been stated by fiscal years. A payment made has always been charged to the fiscal year in which the obligation was contracted, regardless of the date of payment, even if several years afterwards. This has required a great deal of paper work in separate accounting both to the disbursing officer and to the Auditor without accomplishing any real result. Under the fiscal-year system it is possible for a Bureau or Office to make a large contract or purchase on practically the last day of the year, although it is definitely known that the articles purchased will not be consumed or utilized for months. The old method of charging such articles to the fiscal year in which contracted for is certainly as arbitrary as the new method of making the date of payment control for purposes of making the statistical charge. Where nonexpendable property is purchased to be used during a period of ensuing months or years, it is certainly not essential that such purchase shall be charged to the particular fiscal year in which the contract was made. If the Government were doing business like a manufacturing enterprise, for the purpose of making a profit and declaring dividends, it would be desirable to distribute this cost throughout the period in which the articles purchased are expended or consumed, but it is impracticable for the Auditor to do this because it is a matter entirely within the knowledge and control of the various Bureaus and Offices. It was decided, therefore, that it was better that the date of payment should control so far as the statistical statements of expenditures are concerned. A disbursement will appear in the report of the Auditor for the year in which the money was actually paid out, regardless of the fiscal year in which the obligation was incurred.

(4) A system of provincial accountability is devised, giving to the provinces a greater degree of autonomy than heretofore enjoyed by them, while at the same time preserving sufficient safeguards to secure uniformity of treatment of corresponding propositions throughout the provincial service.

Sections 95 to 108, inclusive, of the Accounting Act provide for a sufficient number of district auditors to examine and settle the accounts of the provincial treasurers, each district auditor to be located in the district to which he is assigned. Each province constitutes, in fact, a separate local government, and to provide for each an auditor for provincial purposes is analogous to providing an auditor for the Central Government. The work of the district auditors will be supervised and revised as indicated in the sections of the law cited, the Insular Auditor acting in the capacity of comptroller.

When examining officers and accountable officers are brought into close and constant association the probability of collusion is increased. The history of all accounting proves this. The success of this scheme will therefore depend upon the capacity and character of the various district auditors. If they are capable and incorruptible, success will be obtained. Otherwise, the results may be unsatisfactory.

The district auditors will also make such field examinations and counts of cash of Insular officials as may be directed from this office, and will become extremely valuable auxiliaries. The corps will give to the Auditor an agent in every locality to look into any matter which requires prompt investigation. When it is shown that an Insular officer is withholding deposits, "kiting," or is otherwise irregular, which facts are usually clearly disclosed in his accounts, the district auditor will be directed to inspect at once the office concerned and report results. In this ^{way} ~~may~~ it is hoped to detect defalcations much more easily and quickly than heretofore.

(5) Requisitions will be allowed and warrants issued by the Auditor without reference to the Governor-General, and likewise postal drafts will be issued by the Auditor without the intervention of the Director of Posts.

Under the old system the approved requisitions and certified settlements were forwarded to the office of the Governor-General, where the warrants were drawn. This system operated as a safeguard and made it extremely improbable that anyone would attempt to issue a fraudulent warrant. To place this function solely in the office of the Auditor is certainly a compliment to its supposed integrity.

There are many other features in the law which need not be alluded to specifically. The Auditor's jurisdiction is materially strengthened throughout. One feature in particular defines embezzlement and the jurisdiction and powers of the courts relative to crimes against the public funds. Every change which has seemed desirable as the result of practical experience here has been included in the act, which is a codification of all previous laws on the subject of accounting. The law, as a whole, is most admirable, and sufficiently elastic to make many future amendments unnecessary.

It is the desire and purpose of the Auditor to hammer out of existence as rapidly as possible all unnecessary paper work; but no proposition which involves the safety of the Government's funds will be adopted. Proper checks and safeguards will be provided in all cases.

Respectfully,

Auditor.

The SECRETARY OF WAR.

The GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.
